VeggieFox®

For vegetarian, meat–like products

versatile, flexible, pourable

Completely veggie – absolutely trendy

Veggie is what everyone is talking about, and also expresses the desire of many consumers for a greater variety in their diet. In addition to absolute vegetarians, many "flexitarians" are also turning to meat-free products. Meat-like products such as vegetarian Schnitzel, rissoles or nuggets are particularly high in demand. The number of consumers who purchase vegetarian cold cuts, patties, sausages and burgers is also on the rise.

With VeggieFox®, you'll be able to create these and other vegetarian products quite easily. The VeggieFox® product range from FUCHS is designed according to a modular principle, and combinable with many other FUCHS products: Seasoning + binder + texture + top seasoning or marinade or breadcrumb coating. All components are also available separately, thus providing you with a broad application flexibility.

Conveniently create delicacies with VeggieFox®, for example, for deep-freeze or MAP packaging. VeggieFox® is pourable and can thus be dosed easily, and it's also simple to use — just add water and oil.

Advantages at a glance

- if desired with a meat-like texture
- highly versatile and excellent sensory characteristics
- can be used flexibly, as an All-In-One or individual solution (modular system)
- can be combined with FUCHS top seasonings and FUCHS FoxMaro® (marinades)
- freeze and thaw-stabil (MAP* and deep-freeze suitable)
- easy to use (add water + oil)

* MAP = Modified Atmosphere Packaging
